Prior to today's consultation, Hopkins Homes has also met with Scole Parish Council and is currently engaging in pre-application discussions with Officers at South Norfolk District Council to ascertain their thoughts on the proposal.

Hopkins Homes is aiming to submit a full planning application during the Autumn of this year.

Following the submission of the application, South Norfolk District Council will then undertake a period of statutory consultation on the proposals. At this stage, you will have the opportunity to submit your written comments to the Council before a decision is made.

About Hopkins Homes

Hopkins Homes is an established and well-respected house builder based in East Anglia. Our head office is at Melton Park House near Woodbridge, on the site of the former St Audry's Hospital, where we have created a new community of 200 new homes in a parkland setting.

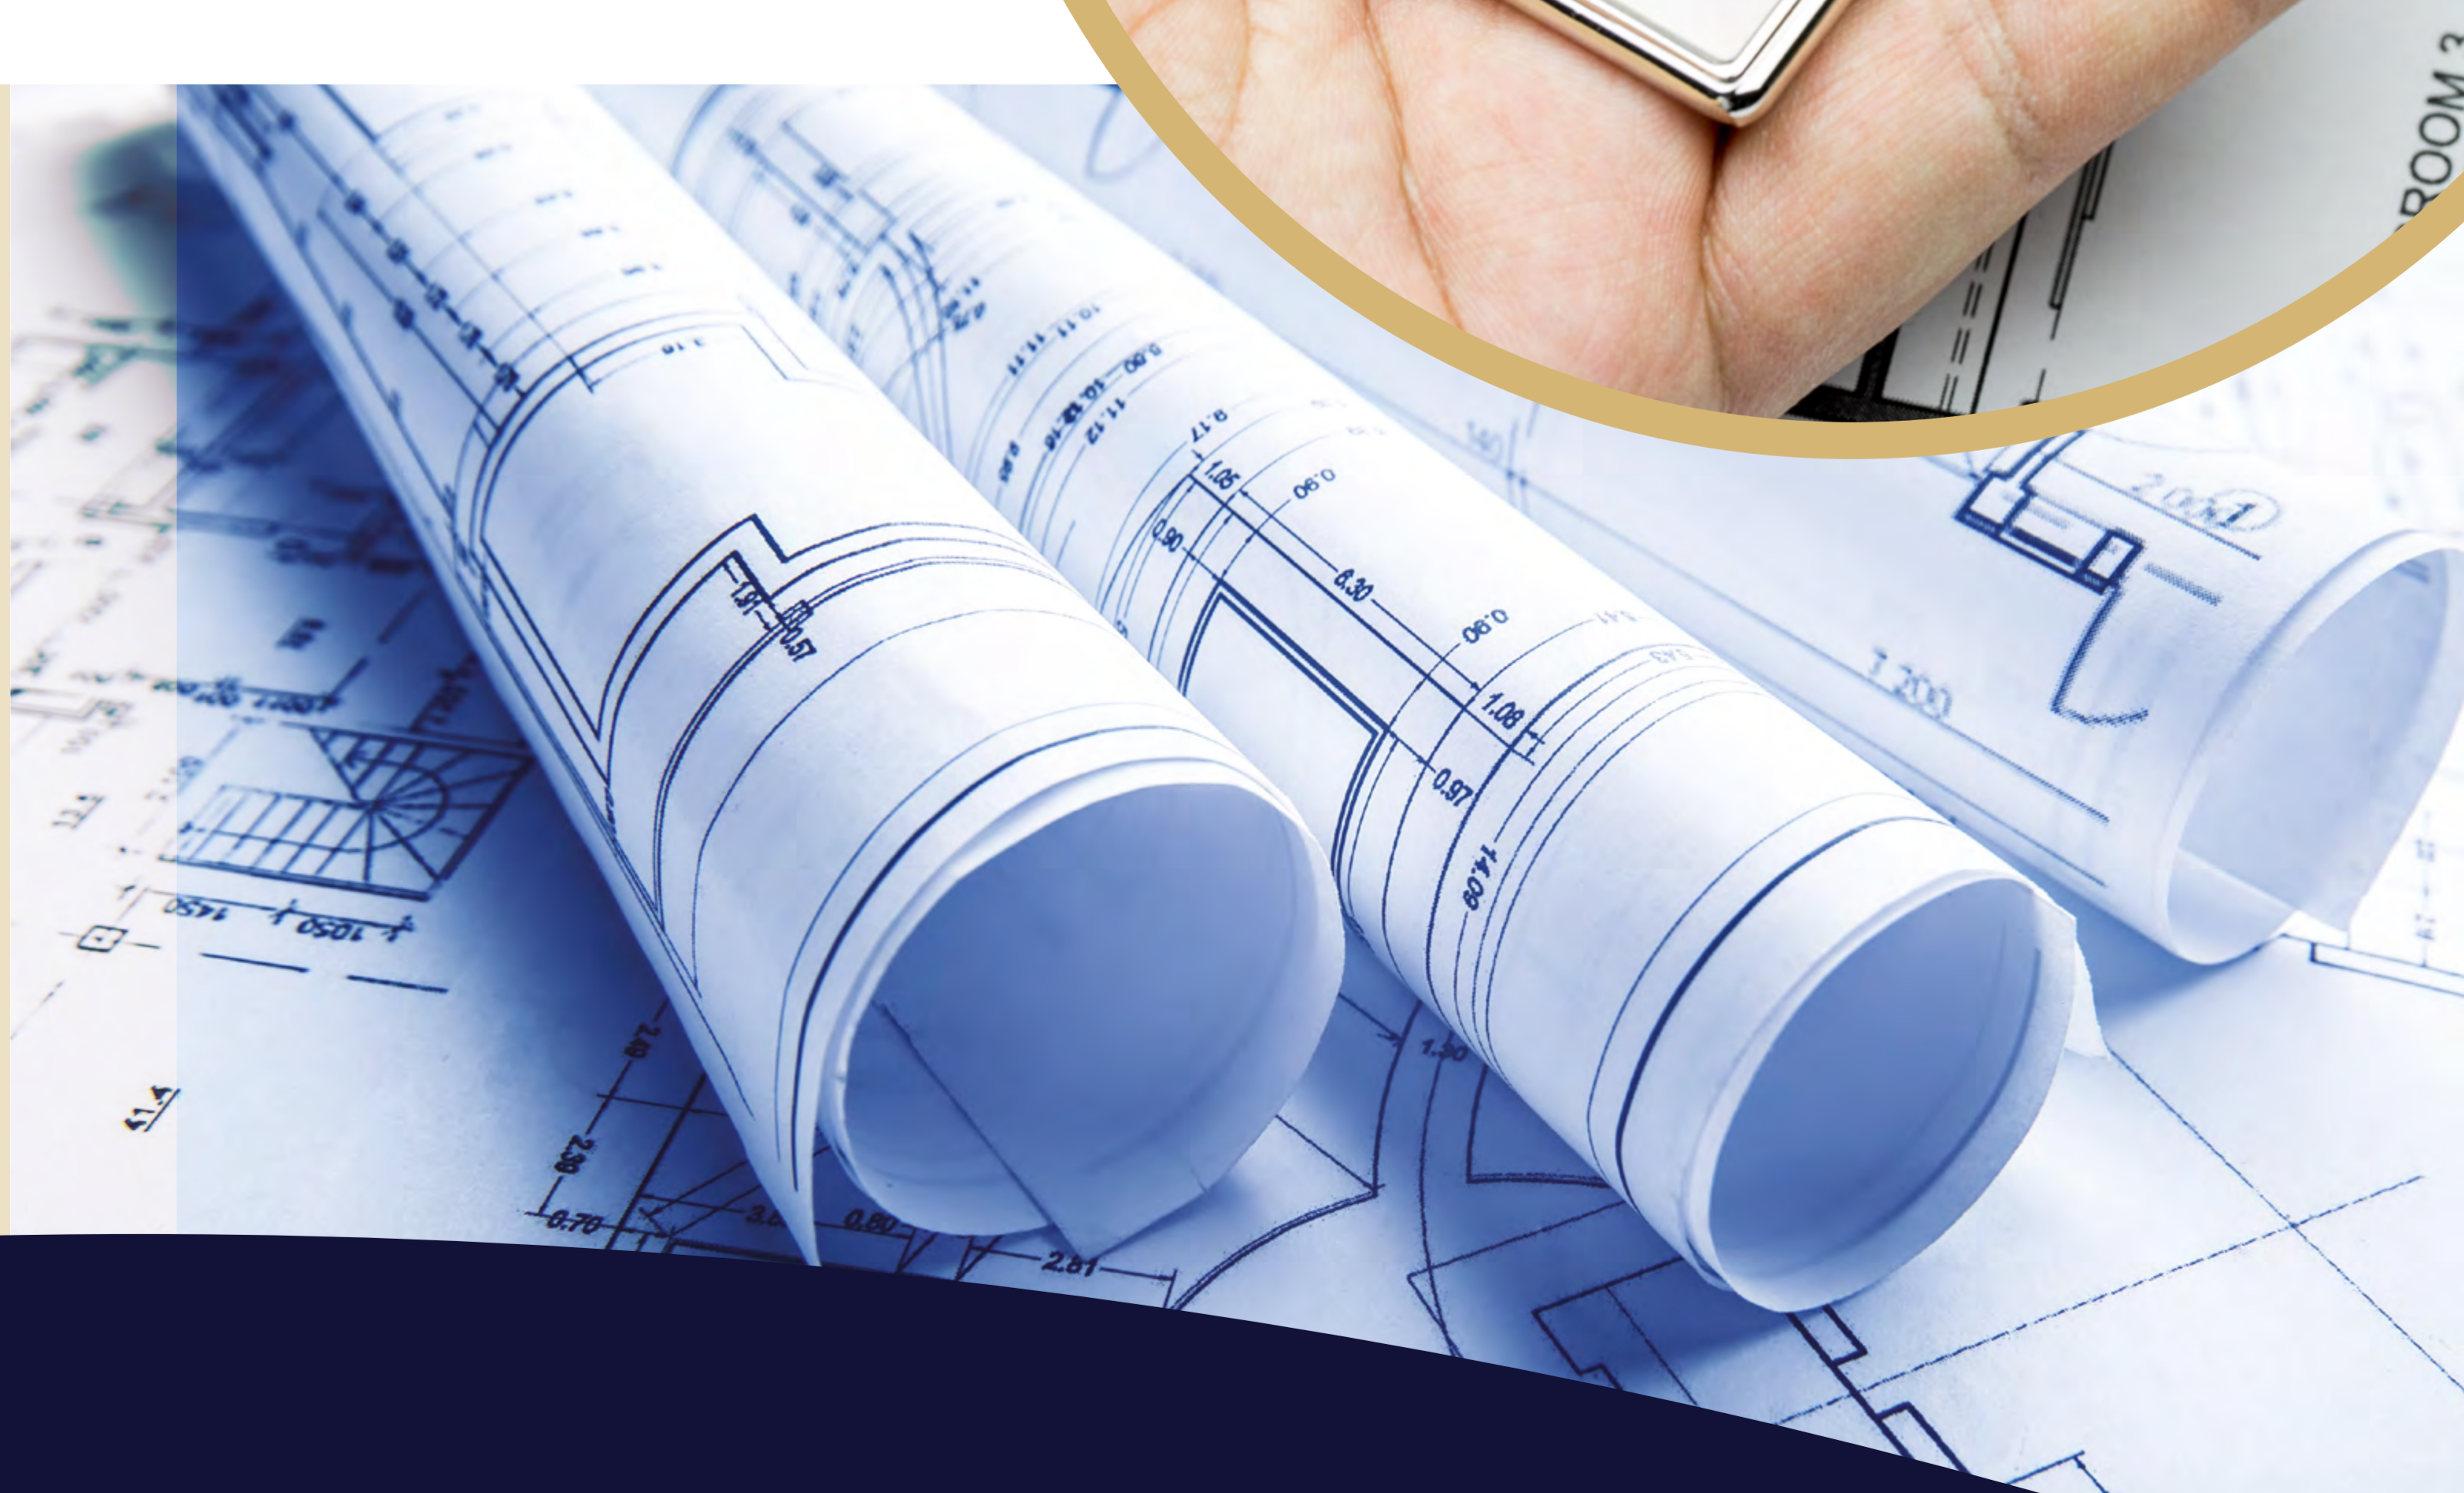

Creating distinctive homes and environments that stand the test of time is our life's work. Our designers, architects and craftspeople are passionate about retaining the heritage of the past, whilst offering energy efficient modern living.

The layout and design of every Hopkins Homes development is sensitive to the unique local character of each location. From the countryside to the city, from apartments to detached properties, our new-build homes are both sympathetically considered and beautifully built to leave a legacy to be proud of.

We care deeply about the impact of our work – creating homes and communities defined by craft, care and social responsibility. Homes that people trust and aspire to, for this generation and the next.
